The Man of the Hour

December

O month far famed! For festive days and nights renowned, Joy fraught, with hallowed benediction crowned;
Life's annual clearing house for retrospective thought.
Where pensive memory recalls the smiles the tears, The hopes and joys of youth, the loves of vanished years,
And sighs to see the havoc, sad, that Time has wrought.

O hoary month! In regions of the north and east
The song of bird and rippling of the brook have ceased.
And Nature's thousand charms of summer days have fled.
There Boreas reigns, fierce god of wind and storms;
And winter all of verdure into brown and white transforms And leaves no trace of life and beauty sped.

O happy month! When keen anticipation, Flies swift on wings of ardent love to greet With gifts the friend, the lover or the kindred near.
As winter closer draws his icy fettered chains
The heart expands and love unselfish reigns
And speeds its largess to the ones most dear.

Illustrous months of most illustrious birth!
Good tidings, peace and joy to all the earth
A heavenly choir announced when Christ was born.
No other birth such mighty portent bore, This Prince of Peace, whom heaven and earth adore.
How thrills the heart at thought of Christmas morn!
—J. C. Oliver in Los Angeles Times.

HIS CHRISTMAS RESOLUTION

I propose you'll hang yer stockings up
Said Jesus to me one day in jest
"Oh yes," said I, "the grocer too
And butcher, cobbler and priest."

The Day of Charity.
"Christmas is indeed the season of regenerated feeling—the season for kindling not merely the fires of hospitality in the hall, but the general flame of charity in the heart.—Washington Irving.

Then welcome, merry Christmastide, Another hour before we go.
The rosy girl close at our side We'll kiss beneath the mistletoe.
Deep, mellow bells salute the air With benisons sent far and wide.
Good will and joy go everywhere Upon the golden Christmastide.
—Joel Benton.

The Christmas Spirit

Christmas peace is God's; and he must give it himself, with his own hand, or we shall never get it. Go then to God himself.
Then put his child, as Christmas day declares; be not afraid to go into thy father. Pray to him; tell him what thou want-est; say, "Father, I am not moderate, reasonable, forbearing. I fear I cannot keep Christmas aright, for I have not a peaceful Christmas spirit in me; and I know that I shall never get it by fasting and reading and understanding; for it passes all that, and lies far beyond it. Give peace in the very essence of thine undivided, unmeasured, absolute, eternal Godhead, which no change nor decay of this created world, nor sin or folly of men or devils, can ever alter, but which abideth forever what it is, in perfect rest, and perfect power and perfect love.—Kingsley.

DAY OF DAYS FOR KIDDIES

Christmas Outranks All Other Holidays for the Happiness and Mar-rymking of the Youngsters.

Above all other holidays, Christmas is children's day. If possible, they should be made happy on that day.
But they should not be permitted to be selfishly so.

In times past there has been a tendency on the part of many of us to give too many gifts, and too expensive ones, to our children. We have been wasteful. We should not love our children less—indeed we would show greater love—by being careful what we give them. Too many toys incline children to be both wasteful and destructive.
When the youngsters are left to invent some of their playthings, their imaginations are developed, and they become more capable of doing things for themselves and taking care of themselves.

This Christmas would be a good time to begin teaching children unselfishness and the joy of giving. Many a poor mother is struggling to provide food and shelter for her children and has nothing to give them from Santa Claus. The children of such mothers are going to have wide, wistful, tear-stained eyes. They are going to crave the joys of a Christmas day that may not be theirs.

While our fathers, brothers and sons are at the front, risking health and life for us, for our country, for good in the world, let us not forget those children who lack a father's care and protection. The good fellows are doing much. But they need our help both in giving and in seeking out the needy. They need our aid in distributing as well as providing.

Let us not forget the spirit for which Christmas stands. It is to give freely, to do service to mankind. Let us give love. Let us give sympathetic understanding. Let us give ourselves.
He lives most who lives for others.
And he who shall have made a child happy on Christmas morning will have done a service in his name.

CHRISTMAS AND THE SPIRIT

Necessary to Manifest Unselfishness and the Love Christ Brought to the World.

Two artists were asked to make a copy of a famous painting. The one made mathematical calculations, and produced a technically correct copy.
The other studied the painting, entered into the spirit of the artist, and produced not merely an imitation, but a picture which glowed with warmth and life. We are not, as Christians, simply to copy Christ, but rather to become possessed of his spirit and so reproduce his life in our lives. At this Christmas season let us aim to become possessed of the spirit of Christ, and so reproduce his life.

In "Little Women" there is a story told by Louisa, Alcott out of the experience of her own early days. The four children who are her heroines, knowing of a neighbor in need, go in a little procession and carry her their breakfast. Another incident may be recalled. It may not have been precisely Christmastide, but it was winter, and the weather was bitterly cold.
The stock of wood was low, and night had fallen, when there came a knock at the door. A shivering child stood there, saying that her mother had no wood, that the baby was sick and the father gone on a spree. She begged for a little wood. "Divide our stock with her," said Mr. Alcott, "and we will trust in Providence. The weather will moderate, or wood will come." No wonder that the children trained in the Alcott household grew up heedless of privation and generous to those whose need was great. This is the true Christmas spirit. If our Christmastide is pervaded by real unselfishness, we shall manifest to every one the love that Christ brought to the world.

Truthful, But Unpopular.
A truthful man is one who says on Christmas morning as he views his gifts: "Just what I didn't want," but he'll never be popular.

Blessed Optimism.
It is the blessed optimism of Christmas time that buys a sled in a climate where snow is a rarity.

ABOUT CROUP

If your children are subject to croup or if you have reason to fear their being attacked by that disease you should procure a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and study the directions for use, so that in case of an attack you will know exactly what course to pursue. This is a favorite and very successful remedy for croup, and it is important that you observe the directions carefully.
